The other bays and beaches along the island's northern coast will be just as visually stunning, including Grand Fond, where you may pass the former oceanfront home of Rudolf Nureyev. As you will surely notice, the remote landscape in this part of St. Barts is more windswept than in other areas and wonderfully rugged. Even so, you may see cattle and sheep grazing in the green pastures. Depending on the return route, you might also pass the natural preserve near Marigot and the fishing village adjacent to lovely Corossol Beach.

Date: February 01, 2022 08:30 AM, 11:00 AM, 01:30 PM

Sail in a sleek catamaran along St. Barts' leeward coast to the Bay of Colombier, a crescent-shaped body of water at the very northwestern tip of the island. Along the way, you will enjoy spectacular views of the gorgeous shoreline and Les Gros Islets. Once the catamaran anchors in the Colombier Bay, you will be free to swim in the crystal-clear sheltered waters. You might also go ashore to the beach, which is typically uncrowded as the only access is by sea and by walking. Colombier Beach has been known more familiarly as Rockefeller's Beach since the 1960s, when David Rockefeller purchased much of the surrounding land and built an oceanfront villa here. The beach couldn't be more delightful, as it is almost entirely undeveloped and ideal for relaxing and basking in the sun without a care in the world.

- Anchor off Colombier Beach, an idyllic and undeveloped stretch of sand.
- Take a refreshing swim in the crystal-clear water and relax on the powdery beach.
- View the only residence nearby, which David Rockefeller built in the 1960s.
- Dress in weather-appropriate clothing.

- Wear flat comfortable walking shoes.

Race across Gustavia Harbor in an open-air Rigid Inflatable Boat known as a RIB for a snorkeling adventure that will be just as thrilling as the ride there. The captain will assess the weather and water conditions for the best spot to anchor, but chances are it will be just outside the harbor to maximize your snorkeling time. The waters there are crystal-clear and teeming with reef fish. You may spot brilliantly colored angelfish, large groupers and schools of queen triggerfish. One of the most curious-looking species is the four-eye butterflyfish, which is named for the two dark spots – or false eyes – on the sides of its tail, which are meant to confuse predators. You might also see green sea turtles gracefully swimming by and feeding on seagrass and algae on the reef. They are noteworthy as being the largest of all sea turtles and the only ones that are herbivores.

- Take an exhilarating ride across the harbor in a Rigid Inflatable Boat or RIB for short.
- Snorkel in the crystal-clear waters at a reef teeming with fish and other marine life.
- Watch for green sea turtles, an endangered but relatively abundant species.
