❖ ILHA GRANDE, BRAZIL

IGB-001 HISTORICAL & CULTURAL WALKING TOUR

Duration: 3.00 Hrs Tour Price: $0.00

Retail Price: $89.00

Date: January 27, 2024 09:00 AM, 01:00 PM

Explore one of Brazil's most naturally beautiful islands of foot and discover a biodiverse paradise with a notorious history. Floating in crystalline water, clad in virgin rainforest, and wrapped in sensational beach, Ilha Grande has not a single road or car. The result is a feast to the eyes and imagination – you almost expect to run across a pirate ship anchored in one of the coves, its buccaneers burying their booty. And that notion's not far off the mark: for centuries, this island off the Rio coast was a pirate refuge, a slaving port, a leper colony and an Alcatraz-style prison. During your guided walk, you'll learn more about this infamous past – and even visit the guardhouse of the now-ruined prison. Pause at San Sebastian church, a humble vestige of civility with a wild green mountain as its backdrop, and walk through Ilha Grande State Park biological reserve, where brilliant parrots, hummingbirds and other protected wildlife thrive. Visit Black Beach, its sand the color of dark quartz, hike a forest trail from Preta Beach to discover Ilha Grande's old stone aqueduct now overgrown with jungle vines, and go for a swim in an island lake.

Get to know the wild island of Ilha Grande, with your guide providing the cultural and natural history. Discover a natural wonderland kept pristine by being a place no one went to voluntarily for centuries. Explore a lush biological reserve and hike from a stunning beach to an aqueduct buried in the jungle. See a lovely church with a rugged green mountain looming behind its cross, and visit the ruins of a prison once known as the "devil's cauldron." Enjoy a refreshing lake swim before the walk back to the pier and your waiting ship.

Wear lightweight long pants, with a swimsuit under if you plan to swim. Flat, comfortable walking or hiking shoes are recommended. Bring a hat, insect repellent, a bottle of water and towel from the ship, and sun protection as needed.

This tour includes approximately 2-1/2 hours of moderate-to-strenuous walking over uneven and natural surfaces. The tour is not available to wheelchair guests or those with mobility concerns. Participants should be in good physical condition. There are no changing facilities or restrooms on this excursion. Those who take part in water activities do so at their own risk and responsibility. Wildlife sightings are not guaranteed.

IGB-002 SCHOONER & SNORKELING ADVENTURE

Duration: 4.00 Hrs Tour Price: $0.00

Retail Price: $119.00

Date: January 27, 2024 09:00 AM, 01:00 PM

Sail by Bahian-style schooner to two of Ilha Grande's most idyllic snorkeling spots – the Blue Lagoon and isolated Praia de Fora beach on the north coast. The journey from Ilha Grande pier to your first stop takes about an hour and provides stunning views of a densely forested shoreline; on this environmentally protected island, nature reigns supreme. You'll know it when you arrive at the Blue Lagoon, the water color is astoundingly brilliant and clear. Boaters often use breadcrumbs to attract schools of tropical fish and the waters are typically calm and shallow, making this an ideal spot for snorkeling. Slip in to see who's showed up below – you may even spot turtles, starfish, seahorses, even some of the dolphins who find this lagoon just as captivating as we do. After a time, you'll reboard and continue your coastal survey, cruising past Love Beach and stopping at beautiful Praia de Fora. With about an hour of free time at this beach, you can snorkel again, bask in the sun on the golden sand, or take a ramble along the shore. Thanks to its remote location, this beach is especially unspoiled and still wears its cloak of thick tropical vegetation.

Board a Brazilian saveiro schooner and set sail for a pair of superb Ilha Grande snorkeling spots. Slip into the waters of the Blue Lagoon, whose name certainly fits, and see colorful tropical fish and other marine life that might include sea turtles or dolphin. Spend free time at Praia de Fora beach near the island's north tip – snorkeling some more, chilling in the sun, or wandering this beautifully remote setting.

Wear a swimsuit under cover-up or shorts. Flat, comfortable shoes with non-slip soles are recommended. Bring a hat, a towel from the ship, sunglasses and sunscreen as needed.

This tour includes limited walking, mainly at guests' discretion. Those who wish to snorkel should be comfortable swimmers and in good physical condition. The tour is not available to wheelchair guests or those with mobility concerns. The amount of snorkeling equipment available on the schooner is limited; guests are encouraged to bring their own. Those who take part in water activities do so at their own risk and responsibility.

❖ ITAJAI, BRAZIL

ITA-002 BLUMENAU HERITAGE

Duration: 7.00 Hrs Tour Price: $0.00

Date: January 29, 2024 08:30 AM

Travel by coach across lush countryside to a town founded as a German farming community in the 1850s, today known for its textiles, crystals and the world's second-largest beer festival. German culture is well represented throughout Southern Brazil, and parts of Blumenau do look like a slice of Bamberg shipped in to take advantage of a much warmer climate. Yet the city is also undeniable Brazilian, making the mix all the more intriguing. You'll learn about how it all came to be on a visit to the Colonial Family Museum, inside the first house in Blumenau. City founder Otto Blumenau was saddled with the task of preparing this rugged setting for its first wave of German immigrants – and it was no easy feat. In the end, textile-making, metallurgy and crystal artisanry were all easier to accomplish here than farming. So too, apparently, was beer-making. Modern Blumenau's sprawling Oktoberfest event draws upwards of a million visitors each year, and they aren't shy about their pilsner and dunkel consumption. You'll visit the Bavarian Biergarten Pavilion where the fest is held, enjoy lunch served at the Plaza Hering hotel, and have some free time in downtown before the trip back.

- Travel inland by coach to a riverside city that's a unique cultural mix of Bavaria and Brazil.
- Tour a museum inside Blumenau's oldest house and learn about the town's founding in the 1850s.
- Visit the Bavarian Biergarten Pavilion, where the biggest annual beer festival outside Germany happens every year.
- Enjoy lunch served at the Plaza Hering hotel, with free time after for exploring picturesque downtown.
- Dress in weather-appropriate clothing.
- Wear flat comfortable walking shoes.

The drive to Blumenau is approximately 90 minutes each way and while this tour includes some moderate walking at the stops, it is mainly a panoramic coach tour of the city's main points of interest. The tour is available to wheelchair guests who have a collapsible chair, are able to make their own way on and off the coach and have an able-bodied companion to assist them. Those with mobility concerns are cautioned to carefully evaluate their personal level of ability before participating and may arrange with the guide to skip some of the walking portions of the tour. Please be aware that Blumenau has a very limited infrastructure. The quality of guides and transportation may not be on par with that found in other areas you have visited. Your patience with these circumstances is appreciated. The Colonial Family Museum is closed on Monday's and will be replaced with the Beer Museum.

Other architectural highlights include the Metropolitan Cathedral and the Public Market, both of which have been icons for more than 100 years. Following lunch at a waterside restaurant, you will learn to make a caipirinha, a refreshing drink made with muddled lime, sugar and cachaça, a spicy liquor distilled from fermented sugarcane. Colonia del Sacramento is a scenic 2.5-hour drive away by coach, situated along the Rio de la Plata directly across from Buenos Aires. Founded by the Portuguese in 1680, the city was fought over for more than a century before the Spanish at last prevailed. The city was prized by both the Portuguese and the Spanish who fought over it at regular intervals until the treaty of Saint Ildefonso which awarded the city to Spain. The cobblestone streets, the lighthouse, and the beautiful cathedral together with the picturesque setting all blend into an unusual and quaint perspective of this historic continent providing you with an altogether unusual day. The city's outdoor Holocaust Memorial, unique in South America, uses angular architecture to convey a sense of dislocation, while its inscriptions include some that create a great sense of peace. Two synagogues in an upscale coastal area with strong Jewish roots will be visited. And a drive along the city's shore-hugging Rambla will lead to a visit of Independence Square, home to a powerful equestrian monument, the tower housing the President's Office and the emblematic Palacio Salvo – once the continent's tallest building.

Experience a live tango show and enjoy all the sensuous, dramatic qualities of this deeply historic dance form. Like the steps themselves, the story of tango is steeped in myth and romance. In the latter part of the 19th century, Buenos Aires was becoming an immigrant city where frustrated and melancholic Europeans were arriving in great numbers as the displaced rustic gauchos retreated into the ever-more-distant countryside. Filled with nostalgia for the disappearing old ways of life, the tango show grew to express the apprehensions of the culture in transition. Lost passions like horse racing and other traditional diversions were expressed, as well as deeper cultural anxieties. The tango was a passionate response to a changing community landscape, a feeling of betrayal by women, the loss of a mother figure and the disruption of longstanding friendships. This highly emotional backstory was captured and given musical expression in the intricate, stylized dance now beloved the world over. Sit back and enjoy the show.

- Attend a tango show and be dazzled by the fluidity and sensuality of the dance.
- Gain insights into the historic Argentine culture that gave rise to this unique artform.
- Wear weather-appropriate clothing.
- Flat, comfortable walking shoes are recommended.
- Bring a hat, sunglasses and sunscreen as needed.

❖ PUNTA DEL ESTE, URUGUAY

PDP-007 SEA WOLVES ISLAND

Duration: 2.50 Hrs Tour Price: $119.00 Retail Price: $269.00

Date: February 03, 2024 08:00 AM, 10:30 AM

Cruise into Atlantic waters to circle a tiny island reserve inhabited by the world's largest colony of non-migrating sea lions. Board your comfortable sightseeing vessel for this six-mile journey out past the wide mouth of the Rio de la Plata, and be on the lookout for a low-slung green rock anchored by a crisp white lighthouse. As you get closer, the Isla de Lobos reveals itself to be alive with thousands of South American sea lions – frolicking in the water, feeding on fish, air-drying on rocky outcrops, and noisily interacting with each other. They live for about 20 years in the wild and the males are easily told apart from the females thanks to being triple their size. Once overhunted and in decline, these rotund creatures are now well protected, and their colony is thriving. Towering above the shoals here, their lighthouse is Uruguay's tallest – a replacement for the original light that early hunters had razed to make seal catching easier.

- Cruise out to a remote offshore islet that thousands of plump, highly-social sea lions call home.
- Learn the history of this now-protected marine population's rise, fall, and resurgence in recent years.
- Spend about 45 minutes circling Sea Wolves Island, watching the blubbery goings-on.
- Gaze up at Uruguay's tallest lighthouse and maybe even spot one of the whales known to frequent these waters.
- Wear weather-appropriate clothing; you may get wet.
- Flat shoes with non-slip rubber soles are mandatory.
- Bring a hat, sunglasses and sunscreen as needed.

This tour is primarily a seated experience aboard either a boat or catamaran, into open sea waters that can be choppy. Participants must be able to negotiate the steps to enter and exit the vessel with limited assistance. The tour is not available to wheelchair guests or those with mobility concerns, and not considered suitable for those prone to motion sickness. Minimum age to participate is 8 years old. Photography and filming of wildlife is permitted but flash photography is not. Tour may be canceled without notice if warranted by rough weather or sea conditions.

It's also renowned for its outstanding natural beauty, a resort city rimmed by miles of gorgeous beaches. One of the finest strands of all is along the Punta Ballena peninsula, where you'll come face to face with Casapueblo, a one-of-a-kind cliff-hugging complex built over decades by a Uruguayan artist who famously averse to right angles. You'll traverse elegant San Rafael and Beverly Hills, and visit trendy La Barra de Maldonado, a neighborhood approached by an undulating hanging bridge. More pious but no less picturesque is the Victorian-style sky-blue Candelaria Church, sharing a square with Punta's signature lighthouse. The private Ralli Museum in Beverly Hills, Uruguay may be far from California, but inside, its collection of artworks by modern Latin American & European artists is every bit as showy. Experience the majestic Tierra del Fuego landscape by both rail and water on a single unforgettable journey. You'll head out by coach from the pier to where you board the Tierra del Fuego Southern Railway, the Train to the End of the World. This vintage railway uses the original narrow gauge line that was part of the small train that carried prisoners to a penal settlement and logging station until 1947 – a facility as hard to escape from as Alcatraz or Devil's Island. Upon arrival at the Park Station, you'll switch to motorcoach for a drive through Tierra del Fuego National Park to Lapataia Bay, marking the end of the extended Pan American Highway, a road reaching some 2,010 miles south from Buenos Aires. In this remote spot, you'll board a catamaran waiting to carry you back to your ship via the Beagle Channel of Darwin fame. While on the water, you'll pass landmarks like the Les Eclaireurs Lighthouse on its tiny rock island perch, as well as Seal Island, Isla de Los Lobos and Island of the Birds – whose names clearly express the wildlife you might see from the deck during your cruise back to the ship.

- Marvel at the majestic terrain as you travel the heritage stream Train to the End of the World.

USH-007 PENGUIN ROOKERY NAVIGATION

(PRICES IN USD PER PERSON)

Duration: 4.00 Hrs Tour Price: $0.00

Retail Price: $199.00

Date: February 12, 2024 08:00 AM

Cruise the fabled waters of Beagle Channel by catamaran and see islands full of seabirds, sea lions and Magellanic penguins. The bountiful wildlife of Tierra del Fuego will astound you as you sail this strait separating Argentina from Chile, named for the HMS Beagle of Charles Darwin fame. He visited here in the 1830s and this rocky channel is still as wild and wonderful today, with forests to the water's edge and the Fuegian Andes in the distance. Seabirds far outnumber humans here; look for black-capped albatrosses and flocks of aggressive skuas, known to thief fish from the mouths of other birds in mid-air. On Bird Island, the main inhabitants are crisply black-and-white Imperial cormorants and rock shags. The residents of Sea Lion Island are heftier; dozens of its namesake mammals cluster on the rocks, the men typically twice the size of the ladies and weighing up to 800 pounds. Perched on its own mid-channel rock, Les Eclaireurs Lighthouse is another photo-worthy site. But the most captivating of all is Martillo Island's colony of Magellanic penguins. These highly social birds will often come right up to the cat as they prowls the channel waters for cuttlefish and squid.

- Board a catamaran and sail the picturesque waterway at the End of the World, Beagle Channel.
- Pass by pristine island habitats where seabirds, sea lions and Magellanic penguins flourish.
- Watch albatrosses, seagulls and skuas wheel through the skies, and obese sea lions laze on the rocks.
- Try for close-up penguin shots as the tuxedo-clad residents of Martillo Island swim right up to the cat.
- Enjoy it all against a magnificent backdrop of dense coastal forest and snow-capped southern Andes.
- Wear warm, layered clothing.
- Flat, sturdy walking shoes with a non-slip sole are recommended.
- Bring a hat, sunglasses and sunscreen as needed.

This tour involves limited walking, primarily from the ship to the catamaran. While available to wheelchair guests who have a collapsible chair, are able to make their own way on and off the catamaran and have an able-bodied companion to assist them, there are no wheelchair accessible restrooms on the catamaran. Guests with mobility concerns are cautioned to carefully evaluate their personal level of stamina before participating. Those prone to motion sickness should take appropriate precautions. The catamaran may be shared with the guests on other tours. Guests may wish to bring a snack bar with them as there are no options for lunch during the journey. The tour sequence may vary.

Duration: 5.00 Hrs Tour Price: $179.00

Retail Price: $339.00

Date: February 13, 2024 02:00 PM

Cruise through the Strait of Magellan to an island nature preserve and observe the thousands of penguins, cormorants and seagulls living there. The naturally formed strait is named for Ferdinand Magellan, the Portuguese explorer that navigated the waterway in 1520 while circumnavigating the world. The Magellanic penguins that inhabit rocky Magdalena Island within the strait are also named after Magellan, who spotted the species throughout Patagonia. At times, 150,000 penguins live on the protected island, and you will have the opportunity to walk among them. It will be an extraordinary experience. Magellanic penguins are highly social and monogamous for life. The ones looking for mates typically bray loudly like donkeys. You can expect to see the penguins tottering about, tending to their young, interacting with each other and hunting small fish in the strait. While the penguins are naturally curious, if startled they will retreat to their burrows or jump into the sea.

- Cruise to Magdalena Island and walk among Chile's largest colony of Magellanic penguins.
- Watch thousand of birds in their natural habitat while the guide describes their behavior.
- Admire the rugged scenery as you cruise through the legendary Magellan Strait.

Your initial destination for this adventure is Los Torreones, a fishing lodge on the banks of the Simpson River – known hangout of plump brown and rainbow trout. But, as always, weather and water conditions will dictate where an optimum fishing experience is most likely.
