Delve into the remains of Herculaneum, a UNESCO World Heritage site that, much like Pompeii, fell victim to Mount Vesuvius' reverberating AD 79 eruption, on this engaging tour that also takes you to a local craft center. You'll learn that Herculaneum's fate didn't quite mirror Pompeii's, since Pompeii was buried in hot volcanic ash that burned everything combustible, whereas Herculaneum was covered by scorching mud that serendipitously preserved the village and prevented looting throughout the centuries. In addition, you'll hear many of the citizens had already departed Herculaneum due to an earthquake that preceded the volcanic eruption by several years, so this city has none of the eerie body casts seen in Pompeii. During your guided tour, you might see upper-class Roman villas overlooking the sea, original statuary, inlaid marble floors, intricate wall mosaics and even carbonized wood artifacts that survived the horrific devastation, all of which provide an astonishing snapshot of life nearly 2,000 years ago. Cap off your illuminating outing with a visit to a craft center, proof that even Vesuvius' destructive outburst couldn't prevent this vibrant corner of Italy from flourishing.

- Tour the eye-opening ruins of Roman-era Herculaneum, a UNESCO World Heritage site.
- See nearly intact buildings interred for centuries by a flow of scalding mud triggered by Mount Vesuvius' AD 79 eruption.
- Examine statues, inlaid marble floors, ornate mosaics and wooden items carbonized by the extreme heat.
- Shop for local crafts at a center where artisans proudly display their wares.
- Wear casual, weather-appropriate clothing and comfortable walking shoes.
- Bring a hat, sunglasses and sunscreen.

NAP-1AC ANNIVERSARY EXCLUSIVE: NAPLES EXPLORING ABOVE &*Duration: 4.50 Hrs Tour Price: $0.00*Retail Price: $99.00*Date: October 26, 2023 08:45 AM

See Naples' architectural landmarks and largest, most popular piazza before heading underground to explore a tunnel conceived as a royal escape route. After walking from the pier, you will soon arrive at the imposing Castle Nuovo. While parts of it date to the 13th century, it is still known as the new castle to distinguish it from the famed Egg Castle, which began as a 1st-century Roman villa. Castle Nuovo's five towers make it one of Naples' most recognizable landmarks. Then, it's on to Piazza Plebiscito, the city's largest and most vibrant pedestrian square. Four Bourbon royal residences overlook the piazza, including pink-hued Palazzo Reale, which now holds a 30-room museum. During free time, you might wander about piazza, browse the shops or simply relax while taking in the scenery. As memorable as the sights are above the ground, Naples also features a stunning attraction below the surface—the Bourbon Tunnel. Begun in 1853 as an escape route for royalty, the cavernous tunnel was never finished and became part of an aqueduct system. As you will discover while in the depths of the tunnel, it was also used as an air raid shelter during World War II. Returning to the surface, you will catch sight of the seaside Egg Castle while walking to a popular restaurant for lunch. It's only natural that Pizza Margherita will be served, as it was supposedly invented in Naples to honor the visiting Queen Margherita of Savoy. After dining, you will return to the pier. Please note: This tour includes approximately 3 hours of moderate walking/standing. It is not recommended for guests who utilize a wheelchair. Those guests with mobility concerns are cautioned to evaluate their personal level of ability and stamina. Casual, weather-appropriate clothing and comfortable, flat walking shoes are suggested.

Gain an insider's understanding of the challenges in building two avant-garde landmarks by touring them with an architectural historian. Perched along the waterfront, La Villa Méditerranée was designed to embody Marseille's deep bond with the sea. Instantly recognized for its prominent cantilevered overhang, this three-level public space also features a conference center with portholes beneath the sea. As you will discover, that lower floor presented all sorts of unusual circumstances that pushed the boundaries of architecture. The building faces MUCEM, a national museum devoted to Mediterranean civilizations. Its audacious design includes elements such as tree-like columns, a lacy façade that resembles a fishnet and a slender footbridge that connects it to the towering ramparts of Fort St. Jean. The square-within-a-square shape of MUCEM is classical in one sense but radically different because of the building materials. The concrete filigree that shields much of the structure is particularly stunning.

- Tour two futuristic landmarks with an architectural historian that will describe the designs.
- Discover how the challenges of building an underwater conference center were overcome.
- Recognize how a national museum used revolutionary materials to achieve its design.
- Dress in weather-appropriate clothing.

Experience the life of a sheep farmer and shepherd by visiting a characteristic farm that produces dairy products from highly prized Menorcan sheep. After departing from the pier, you will enjoy a scenic drive through the idyllic countryside to Son Triay (Ferrerries). Upon arriving, you will be welcomed at a family farm that tends a substantial herd of sheep. After an enlightening introduction to the family's lifestyle and the operation of the farm, you will walk into the fields where the sheep are grazing. The farm's Menorcan-bred sheep are milked to produce one of the island's few cheeses made with sheep's milk. Other cheeses usually contain lesser amounts of sheep's milk, which is then blended with raw or pasteurized cow's milk. You can taste the sea salt in Menorcan cheeses, the result of strong winds that soak the grazing fields with an ocean mist. The farmers may demonstrate how to milk sheep and shear them. Wool from Menorcan sheep has been prized for centuries, and the farmers will explain the attributes that make it so desirable. Following your immersion into shepherding and sheep farming, you will savor a tasting of farm-to-table dishes such as fresh-baked bread, cheeses, typical sausages and wine.

Discover the naturally beautiful villages that rim Menorca's north shore and then loop south into the island's panoramic interior before driving on to the largest beach. After departing from the pier, you will settle in for a spectacularly scenic drive north, pausing along the way for photos of seaside Port d'Addaia and lovely Arenal d'en Castell. Both towns are revered for their naturally beautiful settings, fine marinas and wide beaches. Not far away, you will find Fornells, a traditional fishing village on the north shore of Menorca. The village of meticulously preserved whitewashed buildings revolves around the sea and has become a favorite destination for sailors, windsurfers and divers. Historical attractions include a church dedicated to Saint Antoni and the ruins of several fortresses. The interior of Menorca is just as impressive, as you will discover on the way to Es Mercadal, another atmospheric whitewashed village. Its backdrop is El Toro, the island's highest point and supposedly its spiritual center. The mountain has been a pilgrimage site since the 13th century and a small church and sanctuary now sit atop the summit. After relaxing over a beverage and pastry at a bakery in Es Mercadal, you will continue south to Son Bou, the island's largest beach. As pretty as it is, the ruins of the early Christian basilica nearby may be even more noteworthy. Now enclosed by a protective wall, the stone basilica was probably constructed in the 5th century.
