ANTARCTICA GENERAL GUIDELINES

The General Guidelines apply to all visitors and all activities in the Antarctic Treaty area<sup>1</sup>. All visits to Antarctica should be conducted in accordance with the Antarctic Treaty, its Protocol on Environmental Protection, and relevant Measures, Decisions and Resolutions adopted at Antarctic Treaty Consultative Meetings (ATCM). All activities must be subject to an Environmental Impact Assessment and must have prior approval/permission or meet all the requirements of the relevant National Competent Authority.

These Guidelines provide general guidance for visiting any location, with the aim of ensuring that visits do not have adverse impacts on the Antarctic environment, including wildlife and ecosystems, or on its scientific, wilderness and aesthetic values. ATCM Site Guidelines for Visitors provide additional site-specific advice for some locations. Guidelines concerning particular risks such as aircraft use, or avoiding the introduction of non-native species may also apply.

Consult these Guidelines before you visit Antarctica and plan how to minimize your impact.

If you are part of a guided visitor group, abide by these guidelines, pay attention to your guides, and follow their instructions. If you are the organizer of your own visit or the visit of a group and respective activities, you are responsible for abiding by these guidelines. You are also responsible for identifying the features of the sites you visit that may be vulnerable to visitor impacts, and for complying with any specific requirements related to protected areas, historic sites and monuments, activities or risks. Specific requirements can be included within ATCM Site Guidelines, Antarctic Specially Protected Area (ASPA) and Antarctic Specially Managed Area (ASMA) management plans, or station visit guidelines.

QUESTIONS

- COVID testing
  - Pre trip
  - At the hotel
- Please ensure what is the scoop for the home to airport to home transfers. Does Silverseas arrange this through Blacklane? Are they aware of airport specific departure gate arrival.
- Are there 'formal' nights, eg I am wondering if we should be packing a dress or two, shoes and a suit jacket?
- Will the pool be open? We doubt it will be, but we hardy Canadians might be up for the novelty of swimming in an outdoor pool in the Antarctic.

QUESTIONS

- I read that there are free, self-serve laundry facilities onboard and just wanted to confirm that this is indeed the case and that laundry soap is included, otherwise I will update my packing list.
- Can Silversea recommend an anti-nausea medication? My pharmacist said Scopolamine patches are no longer available in Canada, which is very disappointing. Other than Gravol, does Silversea have any suggestions?
- We can easily see the temp in Santiago (summer - yay!) but can you please give us a general range in temp for Antarctica, eg is it 0 to -10, or is it closer to -10 to -20. We'll pack short-sleeve shirts if it will likely be a balmy -10 (we are from Alberta :)

QUESTIONS

- Is there any chance we may get the promised Silversea backpacks before we leave? It would be much more useful than using our current backpacks and then bringing home two empty ones in our suitcases.
- Does Silversea provide a set of binoculars for each cabin? I know that Scenic did and it saved us from packing another heavy item.
